

Tax Advantages for Individuals

Purchasing a tax-qualified long-term care insurance policy has the potential to save you money on your taxes.

Tax-Deductible Premiums

Under current tax laws, you may be able to deduct a portion of the premium you pay for a tax-qualified long-term care insurance policy. Each year, the federal government sets limits for the amount of eligible premium that may be deducted based on medical care components of the Consumer Price Index.

The eligible premium amount may be claimed as a medical expense as long as:

- Your combined medical expenses exceed 7.5 percent of your adjusted gross income, and
- You itemize deductions on your federal income tax return

Tax-Free Benefits

The benefits you receive from a tax-qualified long-term care insurance policy are intended to be tax free as long as they do not exceed the greater of:

- Your qualified long-term care daily expenses, or
- The per-day limitation, which is $400 in 2021

Out-of-Pocket Expenses

If you pay long-term care expenses out of your own pocket (i.e., home care services, nursing home care, etc.), you generally may claim these expenses as a medical deduction on your income tax return. However, home care provided by a family member is not deductible unless the family member is a licensed health care professional.
