Buy only what you need

Don't pay for insurance you don't need. Take a look at some hypothetical examples where AG Ultra One could make sense—and see just how affordable life insurance protection can be.

Protection during business changes

- Steve, 45, president of ABC, Inc. took out a short-term business loan to expand facilities of ABC, Inc. The lender required a life insurance policy as collateral for the short-term loan.¹

The Solution: ABC, Inc. purchases an AG Ultra One term policy to insure Steve while the one year $500,000 bank loan is outstanding. The annual premium for a 45-year old male in the Standard underwriting class, with a face amount of $500,000 is only $475.00.² The one year term allows ABC to buy exactly the coverage it needs to cover the bank loan.

Options for estate modifications

- Bill's legal advisor suggested using short-term Grantor Retained Annuity Trusts (GRATs) as a method to improve Bill's estate planning.¹

The Solution: Bill purchases an AG Ultra One term policy to provide estate protection/liquidity during the GRAT term. The annual premium for a 45-year old male in the Standard underwriting class, with a face amount of $1,000,000 is only $850.00.² The one year term allows Bill to buy exactly the coverage he needs during the GRAT term.
