Life's complicated. Protecting it shouldn't be.

With so many things competing for your time and resources, purchasing life insurance might seem like something that can wait.

But life is full of uncertainties. While you can't stop them from happening, Nationwide® Guaranteed Level Term can help protect your family if they do. It helps make the process of getting affordable, temporary protection quicker and easier, so you can get back to what's really important in your life.

Be sure to choose a product that meets long-term life insurance needs, especially if personal situations change — for example, marriage, birth of a child or job promotion. Weigh the costs of the policy, and understand that life insurance has fees and charges that vary with sex, health, age and tobacco use. Riders that customize a policy to fit individual needs usually carry an additional charge.

All guarantees and benefits of the insurance policy are backed by the claims-paying ability of the issuing insurance company.

The facts of life

Life insurance is a simple way to make sure your family members and the plans you have for the future are protected, even after you're gone. It provides your beneficiaries with a death benefit, which they can use to help cover expenses and maintain their current standard of living.

Unfortunately, many people don't have — or don't have enough — life insurance to help replace the income they would earn before retirement.

42% of Americans indicate that if a family member who provides income should unexpectedly pass away, their household would struggle financially within 6 months. 25% indicate they would face financial hardship within a month.<sup>1</sup>

Who should own life insurance?

Anyone with people who are financially dependent on them can be a good candidate for life insurance, including:

- Married couples and couples who live together or are in long-term relationships
- People with children
- Someone who was recently promoted or changed jobs
- Single people who support siblings or aging parents, or those who have debt they wouldn't like passed on to relatives
- Business owners thinking about business succession, keeping key employees or retirement planning

10 times your gross annual salary

The rule of thumb often used when explaining life insurance is to purchase a policy for 10 times your gross annual salary. You may need more or less coverage, based on your specific situation, so talk to your insurance professional about completing a personal needs assessment.

Which type is right for you?

Term and permanent life insurance are two coverage options available to you. Both offer tax advantages and death benefit protection for your loved ones, but they also have many differences.

	Term	Permanent
Provides	The highest death benefit for the lowest cost	Lifetime protection and tax-deferred savings
Coverage	For a specified number of years	Until age 100+, as long as the scheduled premiums are paid
Cash value	Not available	Potential to accumulate cash over time on a tax-deferred basis

If you and your insurance professional decide that term life insurance is right for your needs, goals and budget, then consider Nationwide Guaranteed Level Term.

Your next steps

If you've made the decision that Nationwide Guaranteed Level Term is right for you, the underwriting process can begin. This simply means we begin the paperwork on the policy.

Your insurance professional will have some forms for you to sign, and they may need to ask a few medical questions.

Depending on the amount of insurance applied for, a medical professional may schedule a quick exam, which will include checking your height, weight and other basic medical information. In many cases, the checkup can be done in your home.

After the application is approved, you will receive the policy. You might want to file this with your other important documents and notify your beneficiaries.

Then, by paying the regularly scheduled guaranteed premium on time, you can be sure you've protected what matters most in life.
